Awards

UIC fosters a strong academic atmosphere for students and faculty to work together. UIC students have received various honors, including scholarships both within and outside the university. For example, prizes for the Promotion of Spanish Language and Culture from the Consulate General of Spain, Hong Kong; the champion of the Macao-wide English Speech Contest; first prizes in Chinese poetry invitation competitions; and awards in creative writing competitions. For teaching quality, UIC exhibits characteristics of diversity, expertise, and scholarly excellence. Foreign language courses are taught by a number of native speakers of the respective languages, and there are approximately 40 full-time faculty members with doctoral degrees, as well as 10 doctoral student supervisors within the college. A number of teachers from UIC have received university awards for outstanding teaching, and their research has contributed to hundreds of articles published in internationally and nationally influential journals.

Trainings and Public Exams

UIC also has The Center for International Education (with a Branch in Hengqin Area, Zhuhai), and the Macau Centre for Research of Latin America. They serve as platforms for international education development in the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macau Greater Bay Area and research on Latin America. In addition, UIC runs the Language Studio, where students can engage in learning exchange with teachers of various languages. Meanwhile, UIC is also the test center of IELTS and DELE. To ensure that students apply what they have learned, UIC arranges short-term exchange/study abroad programs in the partner foreign institutions.

International Exchange

UIC offers winter and summer exchange programs as well as one semester-exchange opportunities to all MUST students. These programs allow students to engage in exchange studies with renowned universities in Europe, the United States, and Australia.
